

English Transition Challenge: Reading in Strange Places

Your challenge this summer is to have a photo taken of you reading a book in a strange place. It could be at home, on a day out, or even on holiday...but, the weirder the better!*

To go alongside your picture we would like you to write a short description of:

- What you were reading
- Where you were reading it
- What you enjoyed about the book
- How it felt to be reading in your 'strange' location

Please keep hold of your photos and descriptions as you will be asked to upload them to your Google Classroom in September. There will be prizes awarded for the most interesting and original entries. Good luck!
